

CLEO LEAVES THINGS IN A MESS

The third official hurricane of the present season—CLEO—came and went and left everything in a general mess in the Lake Okechobee Region. No lives were lost and the biggest loss was to sugar cane, growing corn, shrubbery and trees. Folks were busy this (Friday) morning getting debris raked from their yards to the sidewalks where removal will take some time into the future. One Pahokee councilman thought all debris might be removed by Christmas. The hurricane smashed into the Lake Region full force shortly after nine o'clock Thursday morning and the high winds prevailed until around noon. Shortly after noon hour the winds subsided some and sudden gusts throughout the afternoon kept most folks indoors. Sightseers took to the streets and roads just as soon as they could twist their cars through the fallen trees and palm fronds blown from yards into the streets. Growers gathered in small groups Friday were passing out opinions at the drop of a hat. Some were of the opinion that sugar cane had been damaged as much as $100 an acre. All sugar cane in the Lake Region is flat on the ground today following the crushing winds of Thursday. Those growers, who have corn up and were hoping to hit the early October market with fresh sweet corn, are of the opinion that they'll have to replant. Celery already set took an awful whipping in the big blow but most of it will recover with a few days of cloudy weather. Electric power in Pahokee and Belle Glade went out with the first big blow but was restored around four o'clock in the afternoon Thursday. Electricity at Canal Point (continued on page five)

City Police Chief Job To Be Filled By Council Monday

A $6,500 a year job as Police Chief in Pahokee will be filled at next Monday night's meeting of the Council. There are eight applicants for the job, from which Leon Guthrie resigned several weeks ago. The chief gave his wife's health as reason for resigning from the job to which he has been elected seven times.

Sonny Brown and Guy Woods of Pahokee are two out-in-the-open aspirants for the Chief's job. Each has his own group backing him with recommendations to members of the City Council. The decision will come after Police Commissioner Harry B. Elarbee makes his recommendation to the council Monday night.

"Most all of the applicants," Elarbee stated, "requested their names be withheld as they are all working and do not want to jeopardize their present jobs."

Paper Ballots In School Bond Voting

Voters going to the polls for the November general election will be using both machines and paper ballots as a result of county commission action Monday.

The board adopted a resolution calling for the use of paper ballots for a school bond election—ballots which will be used by freeholders eligible to vote on the bonds.

All other political races plus 13 amendments, on which all voters can ballot, will be on the voting machines.

Frank Sakser, voting machine custodian, told the board this week that difficulty is being experienced in finding room on the machines for listing the amendments to be voted on.

To try and put the bond issue on the machines, Sakser said, would present a problem of locking out ineligible voters.

In another action concerning elections, the county commission asked that precinct workers of the future be fully versed in their duties before being allowed to work at the polls.

Sweet Corn Group To Organize Sept. 9

The organizational meeting of the members of the Florida Sweet Corn Advisory Committee is scheduled for 10 a. m., Wednesday, September 9, 1964 at the Palm Beach County Glades Office Building in Belle Glade, Florida. These are the committeemen recommended by the industry at their annual meeting and appointed by Commissioner of Agriculture Doyle Conner to serve during the 1964-65 season.

Following organization, the Committee will make recommendation to the Commissioner of Agriculture for initial regulations which will be in effect during the 1964-65 sweet corn marketing season, along with such other business as will properly come before it.

All interested growers are urged to attend.

Belle Glade Will Get A New B&B Super Market

Somebody has been reading the publicity blubs going out of the Glades area carrying a lot of information about the ever increasing sugar cane industry in this section. Evidently these same folks have failed to read the daily sugar price on world sugar—four cents per pound today compared with 11 and 12 cents a year ago.

Outside concerns have been increasing their outlets in the Glades ever since the sugar boom started. Pahokee has two new grocery stores: the Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea Company and Time Saver.

Now comes another great chain store for Belle Glade—the Beyer family has decided to build a B&B Super Market on Avenue E in Belle Glade. Other shopping facilities will be built around the new

Bill Bailey Named Realty Appraiser

Bill J. Bailey, local Real Estate Broker, has just been advised that he received a passing grade on Required Examination number One written in connection with the American Institute of Real Estate Appraisers two week course, Real Estate Appraisal number One, at the University of Virginia, during the period of June 15-27, 1964.

As of December 31, 1963, the firm of C. A. Bailey, Real Estate, established at 8 West Avenue A, Belle Glade in 1942, was purchased by Bill J. Bailey and as of April 1, 1964, was incorporated in the firm name of Bill J. Bailey, Inc.

Bill is the principal Broker of the firm, with the following Registered Licensees: C. A. Bailey and O. R. Bleech as Broker-Salesmen; Ruby L. Bailey, Joy B. Payne and Howard R. Payne as Salesmen.

Bill has been a Registered Real Estate Broker since 1955 and manager of his father's business for the past four years, before the transfer this past December. He says the successful completion of the course in Virginia is just one "small" step toward the MAI designation as a Professional Appraiser which he hopes to obtain in the future.

A county park located on State Road 715 between Belle Glade and Pahokee will be known in the future as Paul Rardin Park, named after County Commissioner Paul Rardin who has represented District 5 on the board for 20 years.

At Monday's meeting of the county board the Republican controlled commission adopted a resolution unanimously naming the park after the veteran Glades commissioner.

Commissioner George Warren asked that the board adopt a resolution naming the park after Rardin and that a dedication ceremony be held some time before, January 1, the time when the veteran Glades commissioner will leave the board.

Said Commissioner Rardin of the board's action—"this comes as an anniversary present. It was 30 years ago today that the Rardins moved to Canal Point to take up residence."

The park is located on land Rardin secured from the State of Florida several years ago with the plan that it would be developed into a county park. Many picnic shelters and barbecue pits have been built and the park is growing in popularity every day.

Adult Classes Pahokee Sept. 2 & 3

Advance registration for adult classes will be held at Pahokee High School on Wednesday and Thursday nights, September 2 and 3, from 7:30 to 9:30 each evening, according to an announcement today by Paul L. Phillips, Director of Adult Education. At the present time four different classes are scheduled to be offered, and these are: (1) high school review English and Social Studies; (2) high school review Math and Science; (3) General Shop; (4) Art. Brooks M. Henderson, senior high principal, will act as evening coordinator for the adult classes.

Additional classes may be offered if there is sufficient demand. A minimum of 15 must be enrolled to schedule any one class. The classes will begin to meet on September 8 and details will be furnished to each person who comes in to register. There is no tuition charge—just a small $3.00 registration fee and the cost of whatever book is used in each class.

Here Is What Transpired At Monday's Meeting Of The Palm Beach County Commission

County commissioners this week found themselves hard pressed to keep up with requests for sidewalks to keep youngsters out of the road while walking to school.

With the opening of school only a week away, the board acted on several requests which included a sidewalk along Purdy Lane from Military Trail to the new Forest Hill Elementary School; voted to build a walkway along Acre Home Boulevard — that stretch of road which is outside the city limits of Riviera Beach which would serve John F. Kennedy High School and took under advisement a request for a walkway along Prosperity Farms Road leading to Allamanda School.

In a previous action the board had authorized a sidewalk bordering a connecting road to Allamanda School and learned this week that only a portion of the walk had been completed. Engineer George Frost said the project had not been approved, as yet, by the Town of Palm Beach Gardens and so the walk was only completed to that town's city limits.

The commission also voted to delay action on a new road providing access to Allamanda School since both the school board and the Village of North Palm Beach had asked a change in plans for alignment of the road.

On the level of higher education, the commission received a request from the City of Boca Raton calling for four laning of 20th Street

Stuart Attends Oliver Corp. Show

C. L. Stuart, owner of Stuart's Farm Service, local Oliver farm equipment dealership, attended Oliver Corporation's "Growing O" field demonstrations at the Henry Blitch farm near Statesboro, Georgia, Tuesday, August 18.

The "sneak preview" was presented under tight security precautions to dealers from throughout several states in this area. The outstanding features and capabilities of Oliver's new products for the coming fall, winter, and spring seasons were demonstrated under actual field operating conditions, in competition with other makes of machines in the same size classes.

S. W. White, Jr., and his top management team from the Chicago headquarters of the farm and industrial equipment subsidiary of The White Motor Company took the wraps off a broad range of new products which will be ready for distribution to dealers and customers later this year.

The all-day field event was one of nine such demonstrations being presented at principal agricultural and industrial centers across the country during August and September.

Cattle Field Day Scheduled Aug. 28

Several hundred representatives from Florida's $77 million a year beef cattle industry will attend the 17th field day at the Range Cattle Experiment Station in Ona, Aug. 28.

Dr. W. G. Kirk, Vice Director in Charge, said this will be an opportunity for cattlemen to observe and discuss the different phases of the Station's research program and how it applies to their farm or ranch. He said 16 research areas from crossbreeding to new pasture grasses and legumes will be emphasized at the event.

The days will begin with two tours of the station and will feature a dinner sponsored by the Hardee County Cattlemen's Association.

Morning speakers include Ralph Cellon, Sr., Florida Cattlemen's Association president; P. E. Williams, retired Davenport rancher; Dr. E. M. Hodges, Experiment Station agronomist; and Dr. E. T. York, Jr., University of Florida Provost for Agriculture.

Afternoon speakers are F. M. Peacock, Experiment Station associate animal husbandman; Dr. J. E. McCaleb, Experiment Station assistant soils chemist; and Dr. assistant agronomist; Dr. C. L. Dantzman, Experiment Station Kirk.

After an afternoon question session, a tour to inspect cattle on feed will be conducted.

The Range Cattle Station is located off state road 663 near Arcadia. The Station was established in 1964 to investigate (1) feeding, breeding, and management of beef cattle, (2) production of quality forage on Florida sandy cut-over pinelands.

Boat Ramps To Be Abandoned On Lake

Two county boat ramps which serve Glades residents on Lake Okeechobee — one at Lake Harbor and another between Belle Glade and Pahokee — are destined for abandonment.

Changes in the dike surrounding Lake Okeechobee may require abandonment of the ramps since the county commission says it can't afford to construct approach roads to the ramps according to plans set forth by the U. S. Engineers.

Meantime, the commission voted to seek new areas where boat ramps could be placed without having to face the possibility of building expensive approach roads.

Commissioners Will Attend Convention

County Commissioners this week made plans to attend the State Association of County Commissioners meeting next month where Commissioner Lake Lytal, Association president, will be presiding.

The state meeting will be held at Clearwater, September 13 through 16.

Because of the state meeting, the board voted to cancel its regular meeting set for Sept. 14 and reschedule the meeting on September 21.

ALDRIDGES ARE HOME

Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Aldridge and children returned this past weekend from a vacation visit with her brother and family, Capt. and Mrs. Charles McCurdy and family at Myrtle Beach, S. C. and with relatives in Tignall and Elberton, Ga.

Milk Board Plans To Stabilize Industry

ORLANDO — Meeting here recently, the Florida Milk Commission came up with a plan to stabilize Florida's milk industry which would make Florida milk competitive with imported milk on a price basis.

Reaction to the proposal was not favorable as it was termed impractical and probably unconstitutional.

Acting Chairman E. Robert Langley, who explained the proposal said it was still in rough form and when the plan was finally worked out it would be mailed to the industry representatives. He urged the industry to keep an open mind until after they have studied the proposal.

The industry has been in a state of confusion since the U. S. Supreme Court ruled that it could not discriminate against milk from other states.

MRS. WILLIAM SLOAN PLUMER, JR.

Miss Mary Ellen Draley Becomes Bride Of William S. Plumer, Jr. On August 22nd

Miss Mary Ellen Draley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Clifford Draley of Hampton, Va., became the bride of William Sloan Plumer, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. William Sloan Plumer of Pahokee August 22 at St. Rose of Lima Church in Hampton, Va.

The Reverend John O'Hara performed the double ring ceremony. The wedding music was presented by Mrs. M. H. King, Jr.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a formal gown of cameo silk face peau. The bodice, banded with Chantilly lace enriched with seed pearls, was fashioned with Sabrina neckline and long sleeves ending in wedding points. The sheath skirt featured a full chapel train, accented by appliques of lace on the side panels. Her veil of imported silk illusion was arranged on a self petal cap, touched with seed pearls. She carried a cascade bouquet of white roses, miniature variegated ivy and baby's breath.

Miss Diane Draley, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Patricia Curyansky of Hampton, Va., Miss Lura Payne of Belmont, N. C., and Miss Jann Plumer of Pahokee, Florida, sister of the bridegroom.

The maid of honor wore a formal length gown of yellow brocade taffeta. The bridesmaids were gowned alike in aqua. The brocade Empire bodice was designed with Sabrina neckline and butterfly sleeves. The gowns featured an A-line peau taffeta skirt. Each wore a flowered cap with noseveil and they carried cascade bouquets of white shasta daisies and yellow sweetheart roses.

Donna and Patricia Baals of Newport News, Va., were flower girls. They wore formal length gowns of yellow organza over taffeta and yellow organza floral caps. They carried baskets of rose petals.

David Simonson of Pahokee, Florida, was best man. Groomsmen were Leonard Jett, cousin of groom, of Harrisville, W. Va., Douglas Cytter of Skyland, N. C., and James Draley of Hampton, Va., brother of the bride.

Mrs. E. R. Guryansky of Hampton, Va., was mistress of ceremonies.

Mrs. Draley chose for her daughter's wedding a sheath turquoise brocade, dress with matching jacket and a corsage of yellow sweetheart roses. Mrs. Plumer wore a peacock blue crepe sheath with side-back drape and a corsage of white sweetheart roses and yellow feathered carnations.

A reception was held at Strawberry Banks Manor House. For traveling the bride wore a costume consisting of an aqua silk print dress and aqua linen coat. Her corsage was of white gar-denias. After a trip to Nassau, Mr. and Mrs. Plumer will make their home in Durham, N. C. where both are Seniors at Duke University.

Rardin Starts His 4th Decade In C. P.

On Monday morning of this week at 8 o'clock Paul Rardin started his fourth decade as editor of The Everglades News. At that eventful hour 30 years ago Editor Rardin walked into The Everglades News office for the first time to go to work. He became owner of the paper in 1957.

Mr. and Mrs. Rardin came to Canal Point from Moore Haven where he worked a short time before being transferred here from that Glades town. The Rardins live on Third street in Canal Point where they have lived for a majority of the 30 years they've been here.

Throughout the 30 years Rardin has been an ardent civic worker and Mrs. Rardin has carried on her regular duties as pianist for the Canal Point Baptist church. He served two years in the State Legislature and is rounding out 20 years as the Glades member on the Palm Beach County Commission.

Next February another member of The Everglades News force will celebrate 30 years doing one thing well. In February, 1965, J. T. Platt will have been with this newspaper for 30 years as foreman of the mechanical department.

Cancer Crusade In Year Round Work

During the coming twelve months hundreds of volunteers of County units of the Florida Division of the American Cancer Society will continue to be engaged in year-round, cancer control programs, involving public and professional education, research and patient services.

The announcement was made this week in a report to the Society's headquarters in Tampa by Harry P. Greef, Ft. Lauderdale, this year's volunteer Crusade Chairman.

Greef's report stated that as of August 18, contributions amounting to more than $1,114,000 had been made to the Society's cancer control fund by Florida citizens, businesses, industries and organizations.

It was also reported that forty-two county units had exceeded their goals and the remaining twenty-five ACS Units would add to the fund before August 31 which marks the end of the Society's fiscal year.

YOUR GOVERNMENT

...A WEEKLY REPORT BY

FARRIS BRYANT
Governor of Florida

Now that the smoke has cleared from the controversy over Florida's higher education system—some of the fundamental problems involved are coming into sharper focus.

Unfortunately, there has been injected into the public discussions growing out of the resignation of Dr. Gordon W. Blackwell as President of Florida State University much extraneous matter and some personalities which have clouded the real issues.

The thing that concerns me about this controversy, which is probably very good because it brings a lot of things out in the open that need to be, in that we are really talking about administration rather than education. Our educational system is good. The real controversy arises over the method of administering that educational system.

Under the present plan which has been in effect since 1905, the Board of Control has the responsibility of general supervision and coordination of the universities in the state system.

This lay Board performs several roles. It represents the citizens of the State and reflects as accurately as it can the wishes of the people of the State regarding the operation of the educational institutions. It also represents the institutions in dealing with the government. By statute the Board is legally responsible for what happens in the institutions under its jurisdiction. The appointed Board of Control acts subject to the supervision and control of the elected State Board of Education.

The State Budget Commission has the responsibility for supervising certain financial aspects, specially assigned to it by act of the Legislature.

One of the areas of administration in which opinions are sharply divided is that of budgetary and fiscal controls.

For instance, the Legislature has said that the Budget Commission must approve faculty salaries amounting to $15,000 or over and administrative salaries of $12,500 or more. This causes certain delays and creates certain problems. When a president finds some man that he wants to employ—let's say for $17,000 and $18,000—he must ascertain that the man would like to come and then submit it to the Board of Control for approval. Then, under the law, he must submit it to the Budget Commission for approval. Time is consumed in this process. Sometimes there are differences of opinion—that's why we have Budget Commissions and Boards of Control—and it really poses problems for everybody.

The State University System now consists of five universities and the Florida Institute for Continuing University Studies which administers the off-campus programs of the universities. A sixth university, the University of West Florida which was named only this week, will open in 1967. A seventh university will open in Orlando in 1968. Skyrocketing enrollments will require additional institutions in the years ahead. Not only are the institutions growing in size, they are becoming increasingly complex and more expensive to operate.

As our State University System expands and the demands for tax dollars to finance the universities mount, it will become increasingly important to have effective coordination to prevent costly duplication of effort.

The question is: shall we just say to the universities here is $50 million—or whatever the sum might be—take it and develop the best educational system that you can? Or shall some supervision by the elected officials of Florida be exercised?

It may be that relief can be provided in the budgetary and fiscal area by establishing more realistic salary ceiling or by simplifying some of the fiscal structure without weakening proper controls.

I really hope that we can work out some plan under which real policy matters are decided by the policy making Board of Control, which is for the most part the way it operates now, and the details of administration are left to the Executive Director of the Board and the university administrators.

We have made more progress in higher education in Florida during the past few years than any comparable period in history in the face of the most vigorous growth in the nation, but much more remains to be done in the future.

Complete Faculty For Pahokee High

The Pahokee Junior-Senior High School is starting the new school year with a complete faculty, including six new teachers. Two of the new teachers, Mrs. Gladys Harrington and James Threlkeld, are transfers from the Canal Point School, together with the Seventh and Eighth Grades from the Canal Point School.

Also new on the school's teaching staff will be Miss Joyce Hudson, home economics; John Spriggs, commercial studies; Joe Jones, English; and Donald Thompson, social studies. Mr. Thompson is a local young man who graduated with the Pahokee High School Class of 1959 before going to college.

It is expected the transfer of the two upper grades from the Canal Point School to Pahokee will give Pahokee Junior High a sharp boost in enrollment, as many as 50 more students.

Other than the six new teachers listed above, the staffs of the administrative personnel, faculty, secretaries, cafeteria manager and custodians at the Pahokee Junior-Senior High School will be the same as last year.

TB Workers Need Cash Assistance

The State Board of Health has signed over to the Palm Beach County Health Department a mobile X-ray unit. This unit is complete except for a generator. Before operation of the unit can begin in the county, a generator must be secured. The unit will remain in Palm Beach County permanently.

What action is planned:
1. The Palm Beach County Tuberculosis & Health Association will purchase a generator and trailer to be used with the mobile X-ray unit.

2. The Palm Beach County Jaycees will raise the money to purchase the generator and trailer.

3. On September 12, 1964, the Jaycees will hold a "Bucket Brigade" in an effort to raise in one day the necessary funds.

4. The "Bucket Brigade" will be held county-wide.

5. Mr. Paul Hamm of the Riviera Beach Jaycees is chairman of the project.

Whatever help you can give for this project is very important to TB Control in Palm Beach County.

WROTENS RETURN

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Wroten and children, returned Saturday from a vacation spent in North Carolina and Tennessee. Enroute they visited their brothers, Mr. and Mrs. B. Elliott, Jr., and family in Tallahassee and Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Elliott and daughter, Elizabeth, in Jacksonville. They were also the guests of his aunt and family, Mr. and Mrs. Rip Hewes at Dothan, Ala.

Armstrongs Will Celebrate 50 Years

Dr. and Mrs. L. W. Armstrong will celebrate the 50th wedding anniversary on Saturday, September 5 at their home on Bacom Point Road in Pahokee. They are pioneer citizens of Pahokee. The Armstrongs plan an open house between eight o'clock and ten o'clock on their anniversary date. No invitations are being mailed out but friends of the couple are cordially invited to attend.

Changing Ag Needs Made Available

"In order to keep credit service efficient and geared to the changing needs of agriculture, officials of the Farmers Production Credit Association are participating in Management Development Institutes," according to Chas. B. Long, Jr., General Manager of the Association.

G. L. Lanham, Assistant Secretary-Treasurer and Branch Office Manager of Belle Glade, and Merle E. Palmer, Representative, have just returned from a three-day Institute held in Columbia, South Carolina.

Instructors at the Institute included officials of Rogers, Slade and Hill, a Management Consulting Firm of New York, and officers of the Federal Intermediate Credit Bank of Columbia. Case materials, group discussions, and decision making problems offered an opportunity for the exchange of ideas and practice in practical application of the principles, skills and tools of management. Mr. Long said.

According to Mr. Lanham and Mrs. Palmer, the program topics included: principles and practices in effective organization; purpose and use of position descriptions; understanding your job and handling delegated authority; determining objectives, goals and policies; salary administration; appraising work performance; counseling on work performance; improving the image; parliamentary procedure; impact of personality; the new look in credit management; managing your time; and improving your communication skills.

The farmer-owned and operated Farmers Production Credit Association extended $14,892,000.00 in capital purpose and operating credit to 270 farmers of the area last year.

The Association makes short and intermediate-term loans to crop, dairy, citrus and beef cattle farmers in Dade, Broward, Palm Beach, Martin, St. Lucie, Indian River, Monroe, Collier and Okeechobee Counties with principal office in Miami and branch offices in Belle Glade and Vero Beach.

Fishing Rules In Co. Judges' Office

TALLAHASSEE — Fishermen are now able to obtain the new fresh water sport fishing rules and regulations at the offices of all County Judges and their authorized fishing license agents.

A. D. Aldrich, director of the Florida Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission, at the same time, reminds all fishermen that they may also obtain the new 1964-65 fishing licenses at offices of all County Judges and license agents. Fishing in fresh water without the new license is a violation of the law and such fishermen will be subject to arrest, Aldrich said.

License fees are $3 for residents, $8 for non-residents. A non-resident 14-day continuous license is $3.25, and a non-resident five-day continuous fishing license is $2.20.

Children's Wear Show In New York

TALLAHASSEE — A month-long fashion show featuring children's wear made in the Miami area is underway at the Florida Showcase in Rockefeller Center in New York City. The show got underway August 14, according to the Florida Development Commission.

The show features sports wear, swimwear and cruise wear produced by 20 manufacturers in the Miami area for youngsters ranging in age from toddlers to the pre-teens. The manufacturers make up the Florida Children's Wear Manufacturers' Guild of Miami Beach.

This is the first mass showcase exhibit of apparel produced in Miami, which is now recognized as the second largest apparel manufacturing center in the country. The guild estimates the value of its annual production at $30 million.

Miners Sons Home

Alan and Steve Miners have returned after a five week session at Camp Ridgecrest for Boys, Ridgecrest, N. C. At the closing ceremony, August 16, both boys received outstanding awards.

Alan received the honorary rank of Little Chief, highest rank a camper may obtain. Steve, received a certificate of achievement for outstanding gymnastic and basketball in his tribe and was also honored by being chosen Honored Camper of the Apache Tribe.

Mrs. Curtis Miners, the boys' mother attended the closing exercises and was accompanied home by her two sons.

Mackey Airlines Showing A Profit

FORT LAUDERDALE—Mackey Airlines has reported record increases in profit, revenue and passengers for the first six months of this year.

The announcement was made by Col. Joseph Mackey, president of the airline which has become a leading air carrier to the Bahama Islands. Mackey planes, he announced, carried 108,505 passengers in this six month period, compared to 98,467 in the first six months of 1963.

"Freeport's rapidly expanding facilities and the reality of legalized gambling on that island have justified the increase," said Colonel Mackey. "Activity on other islands has also added impetus."

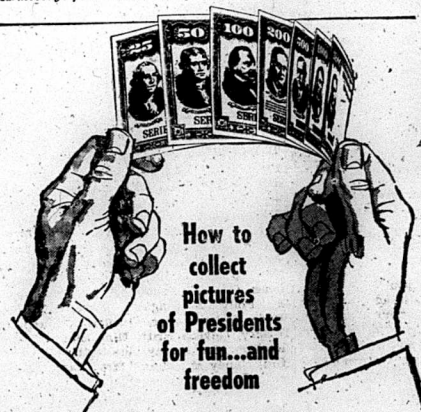

Freeport, on Grand Bahama Island, has grown to become a competitor with Nassau as the number one international base for Mackey.

VISITS GRANDPARENTS

Alan Rogers, five year old son of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Rogers, Miami, is the guest this week of his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John Rogers of Pahokee, due to the arrival of a baby sister Susan Lynn. Susan was born August 24th at Northshore Hospital in Miami.

Warning To Vets On Their G. I. Loans

L. V. McClelland local Veterans Service Officer, states that the mere fact that a veteran sells his federal G. I. Home does not necessarily relieve him of his liability to the Veterans Administration.

Too Often, Veterans who have sold their G. I. Homes learn later that the buyer has defaulted on the loan, the mortgage has been foreclosed, a deficiency has resulted and that they are liable to the V. A. for the payment of the claim which the V. A. had to pay to the lender. A veteran may be released from his liability to the V. A. if his loan is current and if the purchaser has obligated himself by contract to purchase this property and assume liability. In addition, The purchaser must satisfy the V. A. that he is a good credit risk.

A veteran planning to sell his G. I. Home may take either of two steps to avoid future liability. (1) He can arrange for the G. I. Loan to be paid in full. (2) He can allow the purchaser to assume his G. I. Loan and obtain a release of his liability on the loan from the holder of the Mortgage and the Veterans Administration provided, of course, both agree.

The veteran may apply to the Veterans Administration for a release from liability by submitting a request in writing to the Loan Guaranty Officer, at the V. A. Regional Office of Jurisdiction, where his G. I. Loan was first approved. The request should include the V. A. Loan Number, if Known, which should be shown on the reverse side of the certificate of Eligibility.

The address of the proposed purchaser and the name and address of the holder of the Mortgage. Upon receipt of the written request, the V. A. will send to the veteran all the necessary forms to complete in order to apply for release of Liability on a G. I. loan.

McClelland warned that it is most important that the application for release of liability be made prior to the time the G. I. Home is sold for obvious reasons. Since once the sale is accomplished, and all final papers are signed by both parties, it is no longer of importance to the buyer whether he assists in getting the veteran released from liability. McClelland further pointed out, that the buyer might not prove to be a good credit risk in the opinion of the V. A., or the Mortgage Holder or both.

Let Your Money Earn 4½% Payable Semi-Annually

New $3\frac{3}{4}\%$ interest on U.S. Savings Bonds

The Treasury explains why the new ones you buy and the ones you own now are better than ever

Q: How does the new $3\frac{3}{4}\%$ interest rate benefit me?

A: With Series E Bonds, the rate turns $18.75 into $25.00 fourteen months faster than the old rate. Your savings increase faster, because your Bonds mature in just 7 years, 9 months.

With Series H Bonds, the 10-year maturity period stays the same but more interest is paid you each six months. With both E and H Bonds the new rate works out to $2\frac{1}{4}\%$ for the first year and a half; then a guaranteed 4% each year to maturity.

Q: When did the new rate become effective?

A: June 1, 1959.

Q: Does the new rate change the Bonds I bought before June 1, 1959?

A: All older E and H Bonds pay more now—an extra $\frac{1}{2}\%$ from now on, when held to maturity. The increase takes effect in the first full interest period after June 1.

Q: Will the Bonds I own automatically earn their new rate?

A: Yes. You don't need to do a thing—just hold on to your Bonds.

Q: When my E Bonds mature, will they keep on earning interest?

A: Yes. An automatic 10-year extension privilege went into effect along with the new interest rate. This means your E Bonds will automatically keep earning interest after maturity.

Q: With the new interest rate, should I cash in my old Bonds and buy new ones?

A: No. The automatic $\frac{1}{2}\%$ increase makes it unnecessary—and in almost every case it is to your advantage to retain your present Bonds.

Q: How are series H Bonds different from series E Bonds?

A: The chief difference is this: You buy H Bonds at full face value and the interest is paid by Treasury check every six months for the life of the Bond. You buy E Bonds at 75% of face value and the interest accumulates to maturity. H Bonds provide income for living expenses, while E Bonds build a nest egg for the future. That's why many retired people hold H Bonds and families saving for, say, a child's education, buy E Bonds.

Q: In what denominations can I buy series E and series H Bonds?

A: E Bonds: $25 (cost $18.75), $50 (cost $37.50), $100 (cost $75.00), $200 (cost $150.00), $500 (cost $375.00), $1,000 (cost $750.00), $10,000 (cost $7,500.00).

H Bonds: $500, $1,000, $5,000 and $10,000. They are priced at face value.

Q: How safe are U.S. Savings Bonds?

A: Savings Bonds are an absolutely riskless way to save. The United States Government guarantees the cash value of your Bonds will not drop, that it can only grow.

Q: What if my Bonds should be lost, stolen or destroyed?

A: You can't lose. Every Bond purchased is recorded by the Treasury. If anything happens to your Bonds they are replaced—free.

Q: Where can I buy Bonds?

A: Buy E Bonds at any bank—it takes only a few minutes. Buy them automatically through the Payroll Savings Plan where you work. This Plan means you can have any amount you want automatically deducted every payday. The Bonds you buy by installments are delivered to you automatically, too. Your bank will take your order for H Bonds.

Q: How do I help strengthen America's peace power when I buy U.S. Savings Bonds?

A: Peace costs money—money for military strength and for science. And money saved by individuals helps keep our economy sound.

As a result of an investigation by the county solicitor's office, it was determined that workers in Precinct 172 had not been properly instructed in their duties for the Primary Election.

To avoid any repeat of such a situation, the commission asked that emphasis be placed on poll workers training to assure that not only the active workers be fully informed but that all "stand-by" precinct workers be given the same training.

Beach And Shore Study In County

The county commission this week is looking forward to the possibility that the State Board of Conservation will locate headquarters for a new research program in Palm Beach County.

The state board, in a request to the commission, asked the county to make land available for field facilities for the department's beach and shore division—a new branch created by the last session of the legislature.

The commission voted to check available lands to determine if a suitable site can be found for the new research headquarters.
